Orrington Rod and Gun Club

Orrington Maine
12 April , 2015

As you can see from the picture, Orrington flag setters had to contend with more snow covered ground than not. Those that set their flag stands on top of the early morning frozen snow or just pushed their poles into the approximately 8" of snow were greeted with leaning flags by the end of the match. The warming temps softened the snow and over they went. One probe fell over completely.

Wind was moderate in velocity with lots of direction changes. It was a good test of wind reading capability....or not! I think fun was had by all.

Greg Palman

Things were a little dicey at times today. There was a fair share of head scratching trying to figure out why that one went where it did! At lease that is my story. Congrats to all the winners! 336.gif
